OUR STORY

We are two moms that are both registered nurses, whose daughter's acquired head lice through a school outbreak. Like many families who have had to deal with this unwelcomed guest, we tried the toxic shampoos, and things that we "heard" would work and spent hours combing and nit-picking our daughter's hair. We were frustrated with our options, the hours spent trying to eliminate the lice, and the lack of correct information. Therefore, in the parking lot of our girl's school, we decided we could create a business that would help kids, families, schools, camps and nursing homes eliminate lice in a safe and natural process that is proven to be highly effective. We are here to educate, treat and to make the experience as pleasant as it can be.

What are head lice?

Lice are tiny insects that make their home in human hair and feed on human blood. Head lice multiply rapidly and will lay up to 10 eggs daily. These eggs are called nits. These nits are glued to the hair shaft near the scalp for warmth. After 6-10 days the nits hatch. After 10 days the lice are mature and can begin the reproduction cycle again.

The best way to catch lice early is to do frequent head checks. Try to check your children daily when they arrive home from school during a known outbreak. When doing a head check look closely at the nape of the neck, behind the ears, crown and bang area. Live bugs move very rapidly and can be very hard to detect but you can see the nit attached to the hair shaft. Nits cannot be “flicked” away. They have to be “scraped” off the hair shaft.

Children with head lice may complain of intense itching. They may even have small red bite marks at the nape of the neck and scalp.
